

Reinvented Barn Tour with the Grosh family

My husband and I have enjoyed several fun and interesting barn tours led by Historian Taylor Barnhill in the past couple of years. Whenever we have family or friends in town, we always try to include the barn tours as part of our schedule of things to do in the area. Everyone always has a great time and learns so much fascinating history about the area. This summer our children and grandchildren were visiting from out of state and they were excited about doing a barn tour, but we weren't sure if that would still be possible with the Covid-19 situation. We talked to Taylor and he assured us we could do it safely. Taylor was in his vehicle and we followed him in our own car as he kept in touch along the way by speaker phone to describe things to see along the route. Once at the barn sites, you are outdoors in the fresh air, which makes it a perfect outing for this unfortunate time we are presently in. We highly recommend a "re-invented guided barn tour" with Taylor Barnhill.
